Children all around the world go to school. Whether they're from Japan, Ukraine, Ethiopia, or the United States, all students have the desire to learn about the world and shape the future. In Bhutan, children walk for three hours to make it to school, and in Pakistan, children travel by rickshaw. Some children in China must climb a heaven ladder, while children in Nepal must walk over a wire bridge. The treks of these students are unique, extraordinary, and even dangerous, and they signify the common determination, perseverance, and sense of adventure shared by young people around the world.

Read along as students from thirteen different nations embark on their journeys to get to school in the morning, and learn about the diverse landscapes and cultures of these countries along the way!

216 x 280 mm (L x H) • 8.5 x 11 in (L x H)
Aug. 2018 • Rights: World • Ages 4-8 • $17.99 US

Yoori lives in South Korea and doesn't know what North Korea is like, but her father (Appa) does. Appa grew up in North Korea, where he did not have enough food to eat. Starving, he fled to South Korea in search of a better life. Yoori doesn't know how she can help as she's only a little "grain of rice" herself, but Appa tells her that they can secretly help the starving people by sending special balloons that carry rice over the border.

Rice from Heaven is based on a true story about compassion and bravery.

Every day, Bill Cunningham pedaled his bike through New York City searching for beauty. As he took picture after picture, Bill found beauty not in people, but in their clothes. Drawn to bold and creative choices, Bill's photos captured the attention of The New York Times. He traveled to Paris for Fashion Week, and admiration for his work grew. With his sense of creativity and daringness, his own personal style of photography came to be known as street art photography.

His photos left a lasting impression on all those who came across his work and they continue to inspire creativity today. This is the story of the legend who created street fashion photography and left behind a legacy of glorious pictures. Bill Cunningham used his passion and talent to capture the beauty he saw in fashion and the ultimate freedom that it represents to each and every person.

This is an inspiring picture book about finding your path and being creative.

Zeke has revealed to Harris that he's an alien and Harris is thrilled to have an alien best friend! This weekend, Harris has a Beaver Scout outing in the wilderness, so he invites Zeke to join in on the fun. Zeke doesn't quite understand all the activities, like sleeping outside and telling ghost stories, and he is a little careless with using his powers, which leads one scout to become a little suspicious. Will Harris be able to help Zeke hide his identity from everyone?

but his classmate, Harris, suspects that Zeke might not be quite what he claims to be!

THE ALIEN NEXT DOOR #4: TRICK OR CHEAT?

HC: 9781499805840 • PB: 9781499805833 • July 2018

Harris is ready for Halloween and is very excited when he sees Zeke's "costume," which is just his true alien form. Zeke also uses his powers to help Harris make the best costume he's ever had, but Roxy feels left out, as she and Harris usually make costumes together every year. On Halloween, another student is jealous of Zeke's amazing costume and plots to sabotage it. Will Harris and Roxy be able to stop him and help Zeke win the costume contest?

THE ALIEN NEXT DOOR #5: BASEBALL BLUES

HC: 9781499807233 • PB: 9781499807226 • Oct. 2018

Zeke, Harris, and Roxy all try out for the baseball team. Zeke doesn't quite know how to play, but his powers allow him to pitch and hit better than anyone else! Harris thinks that Zeke is cheating, since none of the other players have his powers, and he's also concerned that someone might discover Zeke's an alien. But Zeke doesn't see a problem, causing tension in their friendship. Can Zeke and Harris save their friendship, or will they strike out?

THE ALIEN NEXT DOOR #6: THE MYSTERY VALENTINE

HC: 9781499807264 • PB: 9781499807257 • Dec. 2018

Valentine's Day is right around the corner, and Harris explains the holiday and its traditions to Zeke. When Zeke gets an anonymous valentine, Harris is excited to help him figure out who sent it, but Zeke is confused at the customs of Earth, and his efforts to get a girl to notice him by doing what Harris tells him to don't go quite right. Will Zeke be able to turn things around and show his valentine his feelings?

JACKET

A powerful novel that explores loss and human connection during an era fraught with racial tension.

Ten-year-old Paulie Sanders hates his name because it also belonged to his daddy—his daddy who killed a man and then crashed his car. With his mama unable to cope, Paulie and his sister, Charlie, move in with their aunt Bee and attend a new elementary school. But it's 1972, and this new school puts them right in the middle of the Houston School District's war on desegregation.

This historical novel, written in free verse, paints a riveting picture of the desegregation battles and of a family coming to terms with their own truths.

While helping her grandmother, Collette, evacuate to a makeshift shelter in Brooklyn during Superstorm Sandy, Lily uncovers secrets about her grandmother's past as a member of the French Resistance during World War II.

Told in alternating sections (the years 2012 and 1944), this engaging book explores a deep friendship during difficult times and the importance of family.

A riveting story about family, empowerment, and what it means to be free.

Gentry Forrester feels lucky to live among God's chosen people in the Prophet's compound, but when music is outlawed, Gentry and her older brother, Tanner, sneak out of the community. When they return, all bets are off as the Prophet uncovers their sin and exercises his control. The result is that Gentry begins to question the Prophet's teachings and his revelations, especially when his latest orders put her family in danger.

Thirteen-year-old Emma Woods can't help minding other people's business. She can't stand to see her two best friends Izzy and Harriet fighting, or a teacher at Austen Middle School assigning homework over a holiday weekend, or the student government election being hijacked by the resident mean girl. She starts a blog, "Ask Emma," in the hopes that her peers will ask for her help and Em can make her voice heard. But Em's learning that not everyone wants her help. Despite her good intentions, she's creating even more trouble! She soon realizes that "fixing" everyone's problems might not be as easy as she first thought.

A hilarious, coming-of-age story, readers will cringe, laugh, and relate as 12-year-old Stu finds himself living a lie that seems to be growing beyond his control!

When Stuart Cornelius Truly first sets eyes on the new girl, Becca, he staples his finger to his sixth-grade history assignment. The second time he sees her, he coughs up a bite of her lunch—a roasted pepper sandwich—all over her sweater, and promptly lies, claiming that, like her, he, too, is a vegetarian. Their third encounter goes more smoothly, but Stu's lie turns out to be harder to keep than he expected, especially since his family owns a butcher shop.

Can Stu learn to successfully navigate old friends, new crushes, and horror-filled school dances or will his lie, intended to impress his crush, actually cause his world to fall apart?

Floralie Laurel, freshly expelled from Mrs. Coffrey's School for Young Girls, works as a flower seller in an English village with her guardian brother, Tom, miles and miles away from their real home in France. Tom and Floralie are drowning in debt, but fortunately, Grandmama arrives to save them. Unfortunately, Grandmama's idea of "saving" means sending Floralie to the Adelaide Laurel Orphanage for Unfortunate Children and shaping her into a proper lady—i.e., ridding her of imagination, daydreams, paintings, and poetry.

Before Grandmama can take her away, Floralie discovers a hidden box of dried flowers and a letter from her mother, who had mysteriously disappeared years ago. The letter promises that the flowers will lead Floralie to Mama if Floralie decodes them with a floriography—a dictionary of flower meanings—written by Claude Monet's gardener.

When Sam's best friend Reagan dies suddenly, Sam must learn to deal with her grief and ultimately discover who she is without her best friend by her side.

Fourteen-year-old Sam thinks she has all summer to hang out with her best friend, Reagan. But then her life changes forever. Sam's world, once filled with school, basketball, and Reagan, has now abruptly changed and she must learn to navigate high school on and off the court alone.

When Reagan suddenly "reappears," Sam clings to her friend's presence, even as it hurts rather than helps her grief. Can Sam learn to accept herself without her other half? This authentic, powerful story of friendship, grief, and discovering yourself is a can't-miss debut novel from Maura Ellen Stokes.
