Ella Fitzgerald's velvety tones and shube-doobie-doo captivated audiences. But Ella could not book a performance at one of the biggest clubs in town— one she knew would give her career its biggest break yet.

Marilyn Monroe dazzled on the silver screen with her baby blue eyes and breathy boo-boo-be-doo. But when she asked for better scripts, a choice in who she worked with, and a higher salary, studio bosses refused.

This is the inspiring, true story of two incredibly talented women who came together to help each other shine like the stars that they are.

Selena Quintanilla's music career began at age nine when she started singing in her family's band. She went from using a hairbrush as a microphone to traveling between towns to play gigs. But Selena faced a challenge: People said she would never make it in Tejano music, which was dominated by men. Selena was determined to prove them wrong.

Born and raised in Texas, Selena didn't speak Spanish, but with her dad's help, she learned to sing it. With songs written and composed by her older brother, and the fun dance steps Selena created, her band rose to stardom! She became a true trailblazer, with success in Tejano music and her crossover into mainstream American music.

During Victorian times, girls didn't go to school and weren't expected to work. But Beatrix Potter longed to do something important, something that truly mattered. She spent her summers in the country and found inspiration in nature, and it was there that she crafted The Tale of Peter Rabbit. Developers sought to change the land that both she and Peter Rabbit so cherished. To save it, Beatrix used the money from the success of her books and bought acres and acres of land and farms to prevent the development of the countryside. Because of her efforts, it's been preserved just as she left it. This beautiful picture book shines a light on Beatrix Potter's lesser-known history and her desire to do something for the greater good.

In this new, middle grade, magical-realism novel adapted from the Irish story The Children of Lir, an Irish girl is sent to a mysterious town in Virginia to live with her long-lost mother.

Finn is shipped off to the affluent town of Starlight Valley, Virginia, to live with her long-lost mother, Aoife, and half-sister, Posy-Kate. Finn is initially excited to get to know her newfound family, but she can't help but notice that things are a bit unusual. The town is encircled by thorn trees, and even stranger is Aoife's house, where the walls are covered with swan feathers and decorated with swan heads—and even Aoife's shoes appear to be made out of swan bills.

Finn tries to ignore the sinking feeling that something isn't right, but she starts to believe that what's happening isn't random. Instead, it's taken directly from one of her grandmother's famous folktales, The Children of Lir, where a scorned mother turns all of her children into swans. But Finn stopped believing in those stories a long time ago . . . could they actually be true?
