Ivan and the Crocodile

by Mava

Rights available: World

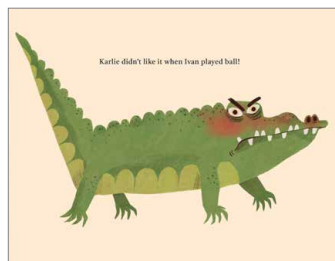

Hardcover – 40 pages – Ages 4-8 – USD 18.99

280 x 216 mm / 11 x 8.5 in (L x H)

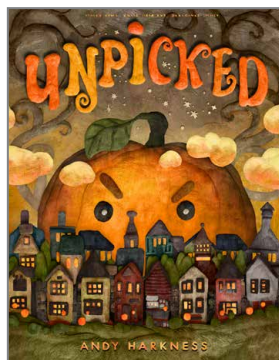

ISBN: 9781499821710

US publication: April 2027

Ivan is having a horrible Monday. Fed up with busy streets, cheek-pinching adults, ridiculous questions, and endless noise, he takes a quiet shortcut through the park . . . where he's promptly swallowed whole by an enormous crocodile. While the people outside panic, Ivan has finally found a place where he can read, exercise, and enjoy the peace he's been craving. But being alone might not be all it's cracked up to be. Told with humor, wit, and a touch of the surreal, kids will love being in the belly of this beast!

COVER NOT FINAL

UNPICKED

Embark on a fascinating journey around our world's coasts in this beautifully illustrated book.

Meet the charming animals and plants who consider the world's coastlines their home. Walk down a winding path to where the sand meets the sea. Spot a green sea turtle slowly making her way up the beach to lay a clutch of eggs in the sand. Jump into the water to find sea dragons hiding among kelp forests, and dugongs grazing in seagrass meadows. Then resurface to meet the many birds who leave unique footprints along the sand.

From puffins and egrets to grassy salt marshes and muddy mangroves, this book takes readers on an incredible journey around the world's coasts where they'll discover the plants and animals who call these places home.

US publication: March 2025

When a young witch inherits a rather cantankerous family heirloom, she has to figure out how to outwit her cursed companion. The young witch initially tries to thwart the Table's shenanigans. But after some time living with the Table, she begins to notice how cold the kitchen floor is on a brisk winter's day, how many nicks and scratches the Table has endured, and how hard it is to stand on all four legs for so many hours, and she comes to realize compassion will get her further than cleverness. This charming and hilarious picture book is about empathy and trying to find common ground with the people—or furniture—around you.

"This unexpected moment spotlights ways in which life inspires awe, and death summons anchoring memories and emotional intimacy."

Sometimes I still fall.

But I try again, and I never give up. I make things work for me.

Because I'm strong. Because I'm free.

Because I have no limits.

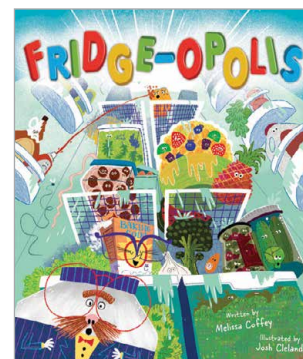

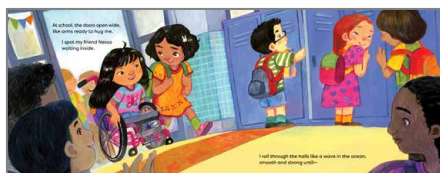

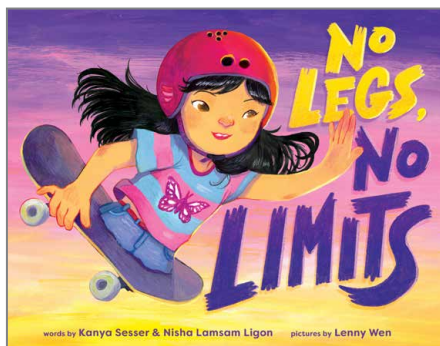

Kanya Sesser has spent her life sharing the message that no matter what life deals you, you can do anything. In this picture book based on her childhood, she tells the story of how she first learned to stand up for herself, both on a skateboard and in life. When eager hands grab her wheelchair—to push her to class or onto the bus after school—she's too shocked and too sad to say no. The people around her don't understand that she moves herself. But when she rides a skateboard for the first time, she experiences a new sense of freedom and joy, and she finally finds her voice.

This empowering picture book will teach kids that if they put their mind to something, they can achieve it.

Daisy and Yeh-Yeh return in this schooltime story about being eager to make new friends and making up with them if things go wrong.

Daisy's grandpa, Yeh-Yeh, is visiting from China, just in time for her new school year. But when she starts school, she realizes that none of her friends are in her class this year! Too eager to make new friends, Daisy doesn't pay attention when she takes her classmates' turns, spills their snacks, and tumbles their towers. Making friends is hard when everyone at school is grumpy! With Yeh-Yeh's encouragement, and a spark of compassion and creativity, Daisy has a new idea to make amends—and maybe even friends—with her new classmates. Readers will love this funny, heartwarming, and all-too-relatable story about understanding others' grumbles as well as navigating and nurturing relationships at school and in our families. Wherever Laila goes, her adorable brother, Reggie, is always close behind. At school, church, even the bath! But on a trip to the zoo, when Laila feels too excited, impatient, or overwhelmed, her body tells her it's time to hit! How can Laila find better ways to express her emotions and be safe with her hands?

Written by Preschool Therapist Ryan Allen, this funny, helpful book will guide children to recognize the signs that they are about to hit, and teach great techniques and positive alternatives to stay safe and have fun. There are many reasons why kids hit, from boredom to excitement, impatience to frustration; this is a common experience for many toddlers. But there are equally many ways to identify, soothe, and change behaviors.

US publication: September 2025

The immortal lyrics of Sam Cooke's inspiring civil rights anthem are among the most powerful in music history. Written as an ode to the struggles and joy of Black Americans living under the oppression of Jim Crow, "A Change Is Gonna Come" became a rallying cry for justice and equality when it was shared in 1964. Now, more than sixty years later, the fight for freedom continues, and these sweeping lyrics remain as important and soul-stirring as ever.

Alongside Sam Cooke's inspiring words, Nikkolas Smith's breathtaking illustrations reference civil rights milestones, Black freedom fighters, and heroes, empowering all of us to continue the mission of change.

US publication: October 2024

Toypurina grew up in the village of Japchivit, where everyone had a role to play. But as Toypurina grew and became her village's medicine woman, she heard about the harsh conditions of the mission the Spanish had built near them, San Gabriel. Tongva people who lived there were renamed and no longer allowed to speak their native tongue. They were forbidden to perform their dances and ceremonies. They were whipped and mistreated. Toypurina knew she had to act.

Traveling to other villages to gather help, she organized a rebellion against the Spanish rule and marched to the mission. Toypurina fought for her people and their way of life, and though unsuccessful, the rebellion was an important event in Indigenous people's resistance to the European presence in the Americas.

It didn't matter if the Iheards were true or made-up, harmless or hurtful.

As soon as Mason thought about them, the Iheards burst out.

Mason is constantly gossiping about everyone. Because of this, the Iheards love him. They sneak up to him and whisper all kinds of rumors in his ear: real things or pretend, innocent or mean. As he prepares for an upcoming history presentation, the Iheards buzz all around, making him blurt out more rumors than usual. Will he be able to change from spreading gossip to sharing something more positive?

What if my dog runs away?

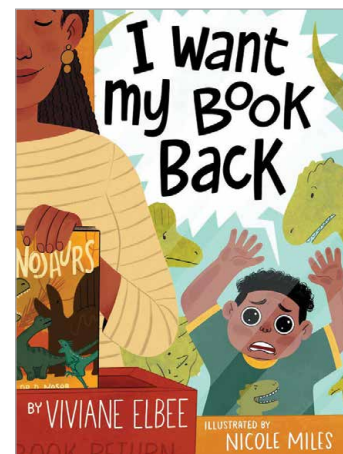

What if I forget my homework?

What if the sun stops shining?

What if my crayon breaks?

Cora is constantly worrying about everything. Because of this, the Whatifs love her. They sneak up to her and give her all kinds of doubts: big and small, silly and frightening, likely and impossible. As she prepares for an upcoming piano recital, the Whatifs cling on tighter and drag her down, making her anxious about messing up during the concert. Will she be able to change her worry-filled thoughts into hopeful ones?

A roguish Fox makes Christmas mischief all over town! He takes a tree, a wreath, the carrot from a snowman's nose, Christmas decorations, tons of toys, and tasty treats. Then he settles back at home for a cozy Christmas Eve with all the wonderful items he's "collected." He gets so cozy, in fact, that he falls asleep and almost forgets to prepare for Santa! But as the clock strikes midnight, Santa arrives and scolds naughty Fox, making him put back all the things he stole. On Christmas Day, Fox wakes up groggy, sad, and alone, until he hears the ding-dong of his doorbell. It's Fox's friends from town delivering a snowball right to his face...and also a Christmas tree! The final scene is a warm and bright Christmas party in Fox's home with everyone from town."

In 1861, the winds of war blew through the United States. Jennie Rodgers, a young immigrant from Ireland, moved west to Illinois and soon had a new name and a new identity—Albert D. J. Cashier. Like many other young men, Albert joined the Union Army. Though the smallest soldier in his company, Albert served for nearly three years and fought in forty battles and skirmishes. When the war ended, Albert continued to live his life as a man. His identity fit him as snug as his suspenders.

THE ETHERNAL SOLDIER: THE TRUE STORY OF HOW A DOG BECAME A CIVIL WAR HERO

During the Civil War, Sallie came to the 11th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry as a gift from a towns person, but she quickly became a favorite among her men. She marched with them from battle to battle, always guarding the unit's colors, and even met President Lincoln. Over three long days at the Battle of Gettysburg, Sallie stayed with the dead, guarded their bodies, and nearly died herself from hunger and thirst as the conflict raged on. Though she fell in battle, her loyalty was rewarded years later when her men met again on the battlefield at Gettysburg to erect her likeness in bronze so that she might eternally guard them.

In this empowering picture book, one spunky heroine realizes she is anything but small.

The city is big and I am small.

While spending the day with her mom and baby sibling, one little girl feels overwhelmed by the big world that surrounds her. Tall buildings, noisy cars, and hungry ducks who want to eat her lunch all make her feel like she is small. Until . . . she dreams big by being an artist, plays big and makes the winning shot, and swings big because she is brave. Soon she realizes she IS big, and nothing can stand in her way!

Count to ten in this book that uses rhyme and word play to humorously show hungry animals eating!

This is the fox who feasts on the lox.

One box of lox for this hungry fox.

These are the mice who munch on the rice.

Twice as much rice for all of the mice.

This counting book is a silly, tongue-twisting, food-and-animal adventure! Each animal is paired with a favorite food and a unit of measurement—from one box of lox to ten skies full of fries—until all plates are clean and every tummy is full. Children will have endless fun guessing what brand-new, made-up combination of animals and food will appear next!

(BOOK #1)

HC – ISBN: 9781499818505

PB – ISBN: 9781499818499

US publication: September 2026

Mae's dreams are about to come true. She's getting a dog! But not just any dog. She's getting a service dog named Malibu! Together, they will be M&M. The dream team. And she'll finally have more independence. Maybe enough independence to attend the end-of-summer concert, Music in the Piazza, with her friends. But training a service dog isn't quite as easy as it looks. Worst of all, if Mae can't train Malibu in seizure alert and response, Mom won't let her officially adopt him. Will Mae and Malibu truly become the dream team?

Mae is ready for her first day of school! With her service dog and BFF, Malibu, by her side, nothing can go wrong! Right? Mae has always been homeschooled, and on her first day of in-person school at Wild Shores Learning Center, she realizes that she has a lot to learn. How is she supposed to find her classroom on time, raise her hand when she has an idea, and make it through an entire class without a snack? And all her classmates want to play with Malibu, even when he's in work mode. Will Mae and Malibu make it through their first day of third grade?

HC – ISBN: 9781499816686

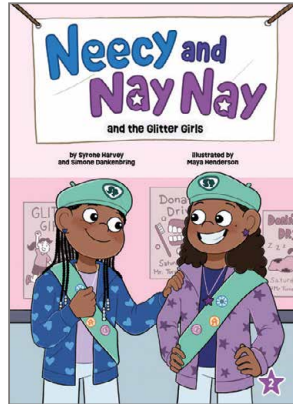

PB – ISBN: 9781499816679
US publication: February 2025

Neecy and Nay Nay always have the most twin-tastic ideas! Their latest is to open up a salon called Neecy and Nay Nay's House of Style to style their friends' hair, paint their nails, and give them facials. But, it turns out, the twins are not as good at being stylists as they think! Can Neecy and Nay Nay work together to fix the hair-raising accidents?

"The authors establish suspense and infuse the narrative with humor. . . . A 'twin-tastically' fun read."
—Kirkus Reviews

"Highly engaging and entertaining, young readers will surely want more of Neecy and Nay Nay."

Blast Back Series

BLAST BACK!: ANCIENT EGYPT

HC - ISBN: 9781499801170 PB - ISBN: 9781499801163
US publication: April 2016

When people talk about ancient Egypt, things like mummies and pyramids may come to mind. But what was ancient Egypt really like? This engaging nonfiction book will make readers feel like they've traveled back in time. It covers everything from what ancient Egyptians did for fun to the gods and goddesses they worshipped, and more.

BLAST BACK!: ANCIENT GREECE

HC - ISBN: 9781499801194 PB - ISBN: 9781499801187
US publication: April 2016

What was ancient Greece really like? This engaging nonfiction book covers everything from what ancient Greeks did for fun to the gods and goddesses they worshipped, and more. Find out cool, little-known facts like their strange food superstitions (many wouldn't eat beans because they thought beans contained the souls of the dead!) and how they invented theater!

BLAST BACK!: THE TITANIC

HC - ISBN: 9781499802740 PB - ISBN: 9781499802733
US publication: August 2016

You may have heard of the movie Titanic, but what was life on the actual Titanic really like? This engaging nonfiction book covers everything from how the ship was built to what the passengers did for fun, and more. Did you know that the ship's anchor was so heavy they needed to use twenty horses to lift it? So cool!

BLAST BACK!: THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA

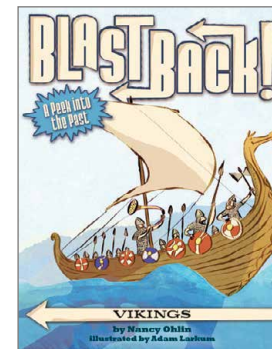

HC - ISBN: 9781499803884 PB - ISBN: 9781499803877
US publication: April 2017

What comes to mind when you think of the Great Wall of China? Why was the wall built in the first place, and how is it even still standing? This engaging nonfiction book covers everything from how the wall was constructed to what life in China was like at that time, and more. Find out interesting, little-known facts such as how working on the wall was often a form of punishment, and how the wall is so long, it could wrap around the world twice!

BLAST BACK!: VIKINGS

HC - ISBN: 9781499803860 PB - ISBN: 9781499803853
US publication: April 2017

The Vikings were so much more than big ships and helmets with horns. But what was it really like to be a Viking? This engaging nonfiction book covers everything from the ships they sailed to everyday life, and more. Find out interesting, little-known facts such as how the Vikings discovered North America long before Christopher Columbus, and how one Harry Potter character was named after a famous creature from Viking mythology!

Welcome to Camp Bossy! Bossy appoints himself the camp counselor and gives everyone a job—like pitching tents, chopping lumber for firewood, unrolling sleeping bags, and preparing picnic baskets. But his friends Turtle, Roller, Bissy, Crocadoca, and Choco have their own ideas for what makes a fun camping trip.

Will Bossy ruin the camping trip with his bossiness? Can these friends work together to have a great time?

The end is nigh. Bring snacks!

Seventh-grader Sebastian Onizuka is having a terrible Friday. He overslept after making a video game, spilled orange juice on his pants, so it looked like he peed on himself, and then accidentally freed a vampire-goddess from a cursed stone obelisk in the detention room.

Wait, what?

Centuries ago, twelve-year-old goddess Maggorthulax was imprisoned to stop her from devouring the universe. But now that she's free, Maggorthulax—or Maggie as she likes to be called—is going to destroy reality during the upcoming solar eclipse. Despite being the Princess of the Abyss, Maggie would rather eat shrimp chips, blip bullies in and out of existence, and binge-watch episodes of The Adventures of Toilet Man than fulfill her evil destiny. Besides, she's so she'd like to hang out a little longer before wiping out the universe. There's just one catch . . . there's nothing she can do to stop the end of the world.

In this laugh-out-loud book about friendship and bravery, Sebastian and Maggie have six days to find an ancient spell, navigate middle school, and save the world.

When hopelessly romantic Penny awkwardly meets dazzling musician Bianca at a supermarket, sparks fly . . . and so does Penny's composure. After instantly confessing her love . . . to a can of baked beans, embarrassed Penny sprints away, setting off a chain of hilarious events that inadvertently pull their lives together. Soon Bianca, Penny, and everyone they know are caught in a tornado of stolen dogs, rival bakeries, hilarious love notes, broken promises, new connections, and lots of cake.

As Penny and Bianca try to find each other, they are forced to navigate more than just their sunny little town. Friendships and life goals are all mixed up in this sweet and heartwarming race for relationships, support, and love.

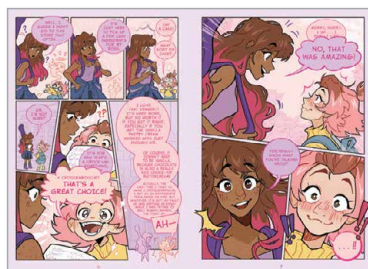

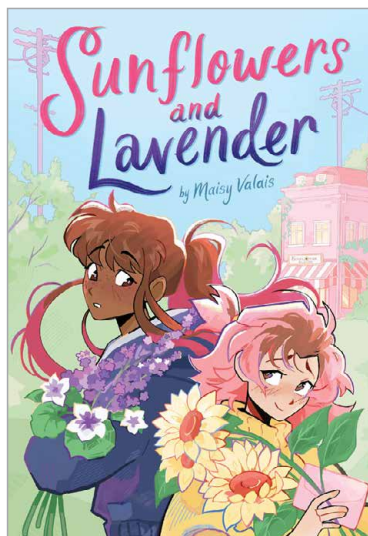

Fans of the Heartstopper series will love this adorable LGBTQ+ romantic comedy set in sunny Australia!

"Valais's debut graphic novel is a lively meet-cute romantic comedy... a quick-paced, light-hearted romance that would be of particular interest to queer teens who enjoy shoujo manga or comics in the style of Eunnie's If You'll Have Me."

Poupeh Babaee is an Iranian girl sent to live with her relatives in the United States. Although Poupeh understands and speaks English, the stress of entering a new school in a foreign land renders her unable to speak, and she is diagnosed with selective mutism. Worse yet, a travel ban—which labels Iran a “dangerous country”—has barred her parents from entering the US! In order to help her parents immigrate, Poupeh must find a way to speak up for them during an interview with an embassy officer or risk being separated. This powerful, heartwarming graphic novel debut shows the bravery and courage of a young girl who will do anything to reunite her family.

FARMING IS FEMALE

This middle grade nonfiction book dives deep into what food justice is by showing how farmers, homesteaders, and policymakers are providing healthy and affordable food to people right where they live.

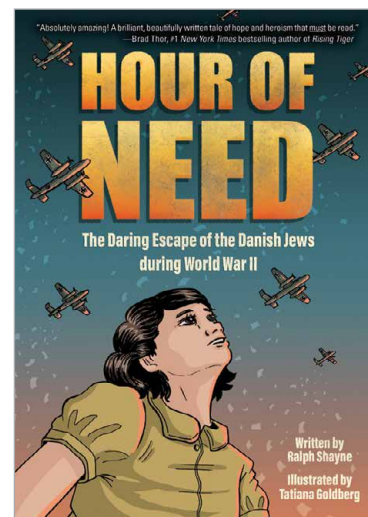

Who grew the food that you're eating for dinner? Most kids in the United States don't know the answer to this question. Through stories based on personal interviews with 20+ women farmers around the country, climate journalist Rachel Sarah answers this question and more for young readers in this book.

Farming is Female also tells the bigger story about food with a lens on equity, including the struggles of undocumented workers, the shortage of fresh produce in low-income neighborhoods, and the food justice advocates who are feeding communities. This book renounces the played-out image of the American farmer as Old McDonald and highlights what women farmers are doing to rise up for the climate. It will also provide readers with inspiration, activities, and action items about everything from how to start your own garden to how to prepare favorite recipes.

In the Hans Christian Andersen fairy tale, legend had it that should danger ever come to Denmark, the mighty warrior Holger Danske promised to wake from his centuries-long slumber to protect its citizens.

When the Nazis move to round up young Mette and her fellow Danish Jews in a surprise raid in 1943 after years of letting Denmark rule its people, her father must make life and death decisions to save his family. Overnight, they have become refugees at the mercy of the complete strangers they meet during their escape. The mythical Holger Danske's promise to the Danish people manifests in the compassion and bravery of a school teacher turned resistance leader and other ordinary citizens who bravely defy the Nazi regime to come to her rescue in her hour of need.

Told from the point of view of Mette returning to Denmark years later with her grandchildren, Hour of Need tells the story of how the people of an occupied nation—from king to fisherman—risked their lives to evacuate their Jewish countrymen to Sweden in small fishing boats. Hour of Need is a tribute to the heroes that saved the Danish Jews and how humanity triumphs in the darkest hours.

“Absolutely amazing! A brilliant, beautifully-written tale of hope and heroism that must be read. To never forget means to tell stories afresh which remind all future generations of the power of courage, kindness, and resolute determination—especially in the face of evil. HOUR OF NEED is an outright triumph!”

—Brad Thor, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Rising Tiger

Winner of the 2024 Claus Deleuran Prize for Best Comic Denmark

Fae, in mourning for her missing mother, sits night after night below the Moon that her mother so loved. Then one night she discovers she can pluck the Moon out of the star-filled sky! Back safe in her house, she holds it close, feeling comfort at last. But Fae loses the Moon and finds that taking it has awakened ancient monsters—rats, dragons, and more, who hunt it for themselves. Will Fae be able to reclaim the Moon, find her own inner strength, and save the world from eternal darkness?

“The book’s lessons about believing in oneself and the importance of family are clear, important, and meaningful. . . . An entertaining fantasy story about personal empowerment and family love.”

—Foreword Reviews

“Easy-to-follow panels and concise dialogue conjure an epic quest that provides audiences with a handy stepping stone into larger fantasy worlds.”

—Publishers Weekly

“Fae’s expressive, innocent face contrasts perfectly with the more sinister characters throughout. Aureliani spares no time getting into the plot, building suspense and layering in the emotional complexity of Fae’s abandonment.”

Centuries ago, magic mysteriously appeared in the kingdom of Allia. At first, the mages who could wield it became servants to the king, using their newfound powers for the betterment of society. However, an evil group of mages called Blackbloods went rogue, siphoning magic from their peers before they were stopped. But after that, the king imprisoned all mages, Blackblood or not.

Years later, mage siblings Kanna and Kita are in hiding, careful to avoid being taken by the King's Guard. Despite the looming threat of imprisonment, Kita dreams of becoming a powerful mage, while Kanna is content living in the shadows. Kita gets the chance to prove himself when bandits invade their camp, only to realize that he lacks control over his magic when they kidnap Kanna. Now Kita, with the help of a mercenary, Toran, must rescue his sister from the dangerous gang, while Kanna tries to find her own way to escape.

What do the bandits want with Kanna? And will Kita be able to save his sister without getting found out as a mage?

Jack Fineman dreams of becoming the greatest pastry chef who ever lived. His plans are thrown off course when his butterscotch basil brownies are upstaged at his sixth-grade holiday party by a simple plate of chocolate rugelach brought in by Jillian Mermelstein—the new girl at school whose mother has just died and who only wants to be left alone. These budding bakers' lives are mixed together when they are selected to compete as teammates in a nationally televised competition.

This biography of Pauli Murray is a groundbreaking new nonfiction book intended for the middle grade audience written in verse. She lived by her convictions and challenged authority to demand fairness and justice regardless of the personal consequences. Without seeking acknowledgment, glory, or financial gain for what she did, Pauli Murray fought in the trenches for many of the rights we take for granted. Her goal was human rights and the dignity of life for all.

Eleven-year-old Beulah “Blue” Warren is surrounded by boys: her three brothers, her father, her best friend, and even the family dog. But Blue’s quick wit and rambunctious attitude keep them in check. It’s been years since her mother passed away, and Blue is struggling to keep her memory alive. In a burst of inspiration, she decides to engage in her mother’s favorite activities: painting, singing, swimming, even reading Mom’s favorite books. With humor, hijinks, and heart, this debut novel is a touching tale of grief and the healing power of family.

“A book for our times.”—Betsy Bird for School Library Journal

“Readers will laugh out loud, cry, and commiserate with her every step of the way....The protagonist is a feisty, mixed-up, phenomenal delight.”

—Kirkus Reviews

“A strong debut novel that would be an excellent recommendation for any reader looking for books on loss and sibling relationships.”

—Booklist

“Railey’s debut is a touching and humorous tale of family, loss, grief, and friendship.”

Finn is shipped off to the affluent town of Starlight Valley, Virginia, to live with her long-lost mother, Aoife, and half-sister, Posy-Kate. Finn is excited to get to know her newfound family, but can't help but notice that things are a bit unusual. The town is encircled by thorn trees, and even stranger is Aoife's house, where the walls are covered with swan feathers, decorated with swan heads, and even Aoife's shoes appear to be made out of swan bills.

Finn starts to believe that what's happening is taken directly from one of her grandmother's famous folktales, The Children of Lir, where a scorned mother turns all of her children into swans. Finn stopped believing in those stories a long time ago . . . but could they actually be true?

It's the summer before eighth grade, and Stu Truly is enjoying the start of his vacation! His plans consist of playing video games, hanging out with his friends, and, more importantly, spending time with Becca. But when Stu has a daydream of kissing Becca, he panics. He isn't even sure if he's actually going out with Becca. Sure, they've held hands a couple of times, but that doesn't mean they're going out, does it?

When Stu's grandma breaks her hip, his plans are put on hold. Now, he has to help out at her store, Truly Fine Fashions. Unfortunately for Stu, it's a women's clothing store. So he has to balance his summer job and spending time with Becca.

"A charming tale of angst and self-discovery."
